PETER'S POLISHED PARAGRAPHS

Carrollton, O., April 3, 1917.

Easter—see Acts 12:4.

There will be no egg rolling on the White House lawn this year, but it will take place around the base of Washington's monument.

Preachers have but little to say about our war with Germany, excepting Billy Sunday, who wants to turn his tabernacle into a recruiting station, then allow his recruits to "perish by the sword," or salt water.

County Auditors in Ohio, under a new law, are ex-officio assessors of the real and personal property within their respective counties. The auditor of Carroll county has published a notice that no changes will be made upon the value of land in this county during the year 1917.

Several ladies of this village were in Cleveland last week Wednesday seeing David Warfield's production of "The Music Master."

A. S. Andrews of Canfield visited friends here last week.

Our brick plant for the third time gave its employees a raise of 10 cents a day. At present about 65 men are employed. The daily wage per man runs from $2.55 to $3.35. To increase the capacity a 30 foot kiln will be built this month, making it a 16-kiln plant, giving steady employment the year around.

The job of delivering the mail to Carrollton citizens looks good to about 20 who will take the examination April 14. At the outset the salary will be $800 a year, and that will be gradually increased until it reaches the maximum of $1200. Carriers are allowed annual vacations of 15 days.

Denny O'Donnell, who was indicted by our grand jury in 1915 for non-support of a minor child, was brought back from Prescott, Arizona, and lodged in our county jail in default of $500 bail.

Some of the judges and judges are overly anxious about the style of their Easter hats.

The body of John McManamy, who invented the player piano and performed music in Carrollton, was exhumed from its grave in Stamford, Conn., and on last Sunday was buried in the West Lawn cemetery at Canton. The change of entombment was at the suggestion of the McManamy Memorial society of New York.

Malvern, this county, voted last week Monday to remain wet and to retain its one saloon. The vote was 80 wet, 66 dry. Both sides conducted a gum shoe campaign.

Grangers are increasing in numbers in Carroll county and the improvement in farm crops is quite noticeable. It is also noticeable the number of young men who remain on the farm.

David Skeele, Major of the 80th Reg. O. V. I., will be 97 years old on Friday. He makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. George J. Butler, and during the past week has remained in bed. He is a republican and an active Methodist. Carrollton is noted for the most patriotic citizens who are long and die happy, there being more than a score of our people who have passed the 80-year mark of their earthly pilgrimage.

Some farmers are plowing ground for corn, potatoes and cabbage.

The court of appeals, composed of Judges W. S. Metcalf of Chardon, John Pollock of St. Clairsville, and L. T. Farr of Lisbon, met here on Monday and considered five cases. The Red Williams-Charles Brooks dog case was among the cases considered. It is thought the case will be taken to the supreme court, and this will score one for Washingtonville.

I notice in the papers that the widow of George Brain has sued the Standard Oil Co. for $25,000 for the wrongful death of her husband in selling her an inferior grade of oil which exploded and caused this death July 29, 1916.

The fire of a few weeks ago played havoc with Mike Lanahan's shoe store and four shoe-repair shops nearby. One of the shops left town, one quit business for want of a room and two changed locations.

Meadows are doing well since the spring rains, trees are budding and all nature is looking forward to a joyous Easter which typifies the resurrection from death to life, from winter to spring.

The rubber builders at our rubber plant, who were on a strike a week ago, have returned to work at the same old pay. Heretofore the men were limited to make only 10,000 points a day, and this has been increased to 12,000 points at 30c per point.

A card from Bryan Gordon, now at Guacanayo, Cuba, under date of Feb. 10, says "I am playing ball every Saturday and Sunday. It is some hot down here." Bryan came here from Leetonia to work in a local print shop; took charge of the Nebraska Indian ball club for one season, then joined the U. S. Navy. His father died here of tuberculosis a few months ago, leaving his mother and his brothers here. Bryan will receive his mail if addressed to U. S. S. Pennsylvania, care P. M. New York City.

A friend at Greenford, last week Wednesday, informed me of the passing of my venerable friend, Rev. Jas. Herbert, who lived the life of a Christian, died in the faith, and now enjoys the fruits of his labors. Your Greenford correspondent has so ably stated the facts of Rev. Herbert's lengthened years that I can only place a flower of loving remembrance upon the mound which covers his sacred dust. His life was a model and a benediction to all who were intimately acquainted with him. He now rests in peace.

Carrollton needs a hundred or more new dwellings to house the families constantly moving to town. The state fire marshal has condemned more old houses the past few months than will be built the coming year. Houses to rent are scarce, my old shanty or coal house brings $10 a month.

PETER M. HEROLD.

A LEGEND OF THE EASTER LILY

*The ables in velvet darkness lay,
The pews in shadow slept,
The rows of gilded organ pipes
Majestic silence kept.*

*Through painted panes a moonbeam stole
Along the altar rail,
And showed upon the steps a group
Of kneeling angels pale.*

*Each swung a censer as she prayed,
And alabaster cup,
Star-shaped and lined with purest gold,
With fragrance brimming up.*

*And as she swayed it to and fro,
Behold! The chilly gloom
Grew soft with airs of Paradise,
And heavy with perfume.*

*A sound disturbed the seraph band,
They vanished in the night;
But one forgot and left behind
Her censer gleaming white.*

*So when the worshippers arose,
The church was dim and still,
But lay upon the altar steps
They found an Easter lily.*

—Miss Irving in Lippincott's Magazine.
